To Whom It May Concern:

From 1975 to 1980 at various times we purchased drums of thinner from Chemical Recovery Systems. We used the thinner to dilute our primer for pre-painting our cars in the body shop. Sometimes we exchanged the drums that were left over to store our waste motor oil until the weather turned cold and then we would pump out the oil into our waste oil burners to heat the service areas. There was only one invoice that shows a sludge disposal of 13.50 which I think was posted incorrectly. All of our other invoices were either an exchange of drums or a purchase of the thinner in the drum they provided to us. The invoice in question is September 8, 1977 inv# 6054 copies of all invoices are enclosed. I don't see where we are liable for a part of the disposal of liquids from Chemical Recovery Systems and feel we should be excluded from any further correspondence.

Sincerely,
